THANKSGIVING GAME

Of Foot Ball Between Holy Ghost College and Vigilant

IT WILL BE A GREAT CONTEST.

Holy Ghost is the Favorite With the Prophets - Lineup of the Two Teams-Exciting Bowling Games Last Night-La Belle Enters a Protest-Other News of Sport.

HEELING'S Thanks. giving Day will be remarkable for the number of athletic events that will take place. In the morning the Linsly and Island foot ball clubs will battle over on the Island at the old bridge park; in the afternoon the Holy Ghost college and fight it out at Irwin park on the South Side, and in addition there will be four championship bowling games. In the afternoon the Hustlers and South Side teams, of the South Side league, will play at Mozart park, and in the evening the Wheeling and Provident clubs, of the Wheeling league, will contest at Seibert's alleys.

Of course the greatest amount of interest and speculation is indulged in regarding the outcome of the game of foot ball at the Irwin park between the foot ball at the Irwin park between the Holy Ghost eleven and the team of the Vigilant Athletic club, of Martin's Ferry. As before mentioned in these columns the Holy Ghost team is a cracker-jack, having defeated some of the best clubs in and around Pitteburgh, among them being the P. A. C. and Geneva college elevens. On the other hand Vigilant has played great hall this season, giving the strong Mariemann of the property of the college elevens.

and Geneva college elevens. On the other hand Vigilant has played great ball this season, giving the strong Marietta college agbregation a strong tussle recently on the state fair grounds.

In a letter to the sporting editor of the INTRILIGENCER, received last night, Manager McDermott, of the Holy Ghost club, states that his team will come to Wheeling accompanied by a large number of students and rooters, on a special Baltimore & Ohio train, leaving the Smoky City at 9:30 a.m. and arriving here about 12:30 c'oleck. The special train will take the boys back home to-night, leaving here at 9 p. m. Manager McDermott gives the line-up of his team, as follows: of his team, as follows:

It is probable that the aggregate and average weight of the Vigitants will exceed that of the college boys. Following is the table of weights of the Vigitant players: J. Smith 165, Gosney 165, Douds 194, E. Smith 188, Och 206, Gray 188, J. Edwards 168, H. Long 145, R. Edwards 160, McAninch 185, Al Davis 165; aggregate 1,940 pounds, average 1762 pounds.

From the weight of the Vigitant aggregation it will be seen that the college boys will buck against something that will not be easy to push or break lege boys will not be easy to push or break through, and many people, especially the home admirers of the Vigilant boys, chance the assertion that blue and white will be the victor over red and white will be the victor over red and blue this afternoon. However, there is no doubt that the college team plays a very scientific game, more so, of course, than Vigilant, and this with their trength will, it is claimed by nearly all the local prophets, open the path for a Holy Ghost victory. Whichever team wins out, the game is sure to be the best of the year in Wheeling, and will no doubt be witnessed by an immense crowd.

no doubt be witnessed by an immense crowd.

It has been said that the street car people would be unable to handle a large crowd to and from Irwin park, on the South Side, but this is entirely wrong. General Manager Wright said last evening that he is prepared to handle comfortably and quickly all the people who will attend the game. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

On two or three occasions this season there have been close and exciting bowling games in the course of the very exciting battle for the championship in the Wheeling Bowling League, but by long odds the pair of games between The Brownies and LaBelle-the two being tied for the lend-at the Musee alleys last night were the finest ever seen in Wheeling. In the first game the team scores were not unusually large, and it was evident that the players of both clubs were suffering from "stage fright." In the second, however, better rolling was the rule, and the lead by frames alternated from one club to the other, LaBelle finally being beaten by one pin. The Brownies won the first contest by a margin of only five pins.

The two games attracted lots of interest; the alley side was crowded and many were unable to get inside to witness the games. In the first frame The Brownies took the lead, but were overhauled and passed by LaBelle in the second, who in turn were displaced from the lead in the third by a bin or from the lead in the third by a bin of two. The game was a comedy on "see-saw" for the entire ten innings, and the score was so close that a recount was taken, with the result that The Brownies had five more pins than their opponents. The score in detail:

The second game was, if possible, more exciting than the opening contest. La Belle led in the first three frames by four or five pins, and then the brown legs came to the front with an excellent frame and were twenty pins to the good. La Belle hung on with grim determination, however, and oradually termination, however, and gradually the load was overcome, so that when the eighth frame was completed Wright's boys were three pine ahead. The excitement at this stage of the contest was intense. When the ninth frame was over The Brownies had wrested the lead from La Belle, but it was only the matter of a pin or two, so that except him depended on the fluish was only the matter of a pin or two, so that everything depended on the fluish in the flual frame, the tenth. Both teams did good work, though everybody was nervous and excited to a high degree. Some of the boys who were quick with the figures yelled out:

Just as the words were out, Wells, who was bowling on a spare, put the ball down the alley like a cannon shot and all the pins went down.

"It's a foul. Put the pins up," quietly remarked Umpire Ebeling.
Well, that took the starch out of La-Belle—a loss of at least twenty pins. Still, they had a chance. Everybody had rolled except "Jack" Wright, who managed to score a neat spare in the tenth. One of his club mates who had been closely watching the score board, yelled out that nine pins would tie and ten win the game. Wright put the big ball down straight as a die; eight pins tumbled down the other two wobbled tumbled down, the other two wobbled gently for a fractional part of a second and then remained standing—LaBelle had lost—824 to 825. Last evening the Mozart and Knoke teams of the South Side Bowling League played two championship games at the Mozart park alleys. The latter team won both games, the first with ease, but the second was close and interesting. The two Knoke victories interesting. The two Knoke victories make it incumbent on South Side to win two games this afternoon or relinquish the lead to Knoke's men. In case of a saw-off this afternoon the South Side and Knoke teams will be tied for first place.
